How Colfax Received the News

[Washington Dispatch to the New York Sun]

Although the House was not in session Speaker Colfax was at his room at the Capitol at an early hour A large number of his personal friends were also there About 2 o'clock Speaker Colfax began receiving dispatches from Hon Wm Orton, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company who is at Chicago The first few ballots were not encouraging, but the New York men in the Speaker's room assured him that when Governor Fenton was dropped their State would go for him The telegraph messenger kept bringing in dispatches every few minutes which were opened by Mr Colfax with nervous eagerness and read by himself and a half dozen friends simultaneously As the contents of each dispatch were made known the crowd in the Speaker's room all of them evidently, Colfax men—became elated or depressed according to the tenor of the news The result of the first, second and third ballots were received and read Senator Wade still leading, but knowing politicians in the room prophesied that Colfax would surely win in the end The fact that after the first ballot he gained on Wade, was taken as a good omen With the announcement of the third ballot came the prophecy from Mr Orton that Colfax would be nominated on the fifth ballot The reading of this was received by three hearty cheers from all in the room Colfax himself brightened up, but still was not over sanguine He has seen enough of political life to know the uncertainty of the action of conventions, and so he thought it best to wait until he was well out of the woods When he read the result of the third ballot he sat down at his table, and amid the turmoil and enthusiasm around him, wrote a hurried note, giving the result thus far, which he dispatched to his mother by special messenger He said to those around him, "She is so anxious to know, and I do not like to keep her in suspense Scarcely had the letter been written and carried away when the telegraph boy entered with another dispatch It was from Mr Orton and announced his nomination on the fifth ballot

This was greeted with an outburst of applause and a general rush was made to shake the lucky man by the hand. A scene of general joy and rejoicing ensued Mr Colfax always bashful and modest, seemed completely overcome His friends congratulated him again and again Members, employes of the House pages and friends cheered until the Speaker's room resounded again and again Then they went out into the hall of the House and cheered repeatedly

The Tribune's special says Mr Wade, after the adjournment, spent a few moments in the Vice President's room, where the telegrams were pouring in every ten minutes After spending half an hour there, he went to his rooms at the Washington House, accompanied by Senators Pomeroy, Yates and others, He was waited on at his rooms by several personal friends Mr Wade manifested entire indifference He never looked at a dispatch, but handed it to his secretary to read When the result of the third ballot was announced he was in good spirits, and began to take interest in the result , but when the last telegram was received, announcing the nomination of Mr Colfax Mr Wade said Well I guess it will be all right , he deserves it, and he will be a good presiding officer

Shipwreck

TERRIBLE SUFFERING OF THE PASSENGERS AND CREW—ALL FROZEN TO DEATH

The following account of the loss of the brigantine Queen, near Gull Island, Newfoundland, is given in a letter, dated Fortune Harbor, Green Bay, April 25, 1868, and published in the St Johns (N B) Courier

I have to inform you of one of the most melancholy occurrences on record in the annals of Newfoundland The brigantine Queen, which was supposed to have been lost in the neighborhood of Twillingate about the middle of December last, was actually lost on Cape John, Gull Island, on December 12th. The crew and passengers succeeded in getting on shore, but only to perish some days afterwards Four of the crew returned to the wreck after they got ashore to endeavor to procure some food. While on board, the cable which was attached to the cliff, parted, and the vessel drifted out to sea, it is supposed she sunk The persons thus lost in the vessels were the pilot, the boatswain, one seaman and a passenger

On the 21st of April, a vessel cruising about in mouth of Green Bay, was becalmed near Gull Island, and a boat from her went towards the island to shoot some birds When they got to the island they only saw one bird, at which the men fired The bird flew a little distance and then fell apparently dead One of the men went to pick it up, but had not gone far when to his great surprise, he saw two skeletons lying nearly side by side He called to his companions, who ran up to him, On looking about they saw a piece of canvass a few yards away from the men, but so frozen to the rocks that they could not get it up They cut it in several pieces, and found underneath the bodies of nine men and two women The men then returned to their vessel and ran her up to Tilt Cove, where they stated what they had seen Coffins were immediately prepared, and next day the same vessel, with about sixty hands proceeded to the island to remove the bodies to Tilt Cove for interment

In searching the bodies after they were landed in Tilt Cove, it was found that the Captain and Mr Dowsley had kept a journal up to the 24th of December, twelve days after they were wrecked At that time they were all living On that date Mr Dowsley wrote in the journal 'I have this day walked all round this island and see nothing before me but death I expect to be one of the first to die, as I now feel very weak " After that he wrote no more Mr Drowsley says in the journal ' I do not expect my body will ever be found

The scene the people witnessed when removing the bodies can be better imagined than described They were all so frozen together that they had to be separated with pries and crowbars

The captain stated in the journal as follows 'We made the island on the 11th, at 4 o'clock P M Not caring to run for Tilt Cove we hove to sea for the night About 12 o'clock bore round and ran in for the bay, and at 6 A M the vessel ran ashore in a snow storm

Nothing like this has occurred in Newfoundland within the memory of the oldest people living here There was I believe, a man named Gushue lost his vessel on the Horse Islands about six years since in the month of April when all those who got ashore perished from cold and hunger The skeletons of the men were found the following summer, and some papers giving an account of where they were lost and how they died

Where the Queen was lost is only about three miles from the land, and a man from the shore saw a light several times on the island and told different persons of it, but they would not believe him If there had been any reason to suppose there were parties there there would have been no difficulty in getting them off The island is very seldom visited except in the summer season

Henry J. Raymond is a very fluent and easy writer, and it has often been stated in the office that if the days were a little longer he would write up the whole paper Paragraphs reviews, dramatic and musical criticisms sketches, general editorials, political leaders all are alike to him He is, no doubt the most versatile writer on the New York press One of his most remarkable performances was his article on the death of Daniel Webster It filled nearly fifteen columns of the Times was written at one sitting and in the incredibly short space of twelve hours —New York Letter

The Boston Traveler's correspondent, on the authority of General Hawley who was defeated by Governor Buckingham for the Connecticut Senatorship, attributes the success of the latter to the great number of prominent men who had been his scholars in Sunday School and had there learned to trust him.

What a Democratic Guerilla Newspaper Thinks of Our Ticket.

[From the New York Herald May 23]

In U. S. Grant the General in Chief of the army and in Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the National House of Representatives the Republican party has placed a strong cohesive and popular Presidential ticket before the people Grant the great Captain of the age has also proved that in the administration of the civil affairs of a peace establishment he possesses those rare endowments of practical statesmanship which qualify him for all the responsibilities of the executive head of the government in any emergency It is the general impression among the American people that in his hands their interests and the honor and prosperity of the country will be safe His associate Speaker Colfax for one of his age is a man of great experience and superior abilities and sagacity in our political affairs and in the event of a call to the White House to fill the unexpired term of his colleague no doubt can be entertained that he will give us a good administration Nor is the flattering reputation of these men limited to the United States, for it is substantially the same abroad as at home The news of their nomination will strengthen the confidence of the friends in "the great republic over all the world—on the Thames, the Seine the Rhine the Neva and the Danube and from the mighty Amazon rolling its flood of waters down the equatorial line to the imperial Yang-tse-Kiang of China, "the son of the sea Nor will that honest faith in American securities at Frankfort-on-the-Main be weakened with the prospect of the transfer from and after the 4th of March 1869 of the reins of our government to Grant and Colfax

The Chicago Convention could not have chosen a better ticket The President pro tem of the Senate Mr Wade, who led the list of Vice Presidential aspirants on the first two or three ballots, would have been to Grant as a heavy a load to carry as was the Old Man of the Sea to Sinbad the Sailor and Fenton the next highest competitor of Colfax, would also have been a dead weight Colfax, on the other hand, gives that positive strength and consistency to the ticket which makes it a unit and expands the scale of its influence. He has had the valuable training of a newspaper editor a vocation which in this country is the best of school for an aspiring politician It teaches him all the ins and outs of the profession and how to avoid those shoals and bars upon which so many of our greatest statesmen have foundered. The rail splitter and the tailor were a powerful team, but the tanner and the editor will match them "There is nothing like leather " and the newspaper is the third estate of the nineteenth century Grant and Colfax are a strong ticket

We come then, to the inquiry, How is this ticket to be beaten? From present indications, the Republicans have some show of reason for the boast that Grant and Colfax will walk over the course

Gov. Geary's Opinion of General Grant — The New York Times of May 25th, says:

The National Union of Philadelphia, on Friday evening, held the first of a series of weekly meetings, to be continued during the campaign. They were addressed by ex-Governor Geary. He said that the ticket adopted at Chicago had not been excelled since the days of Washington, but he urged upon his hearers the necessity for vigorous work during the campaign, as the party has a wily foe to contend with. Of General Grant he said

"General Grant has been placed on the ticket for the highest position known to the American people, and he is well deserving of it It has been my province to know him for twenty-one years, We were both young men together in the Mexican war He was the same —during hero then as he has proved himself to be in the late rebellion I knew him when a Second Lieutenant, when Molino del Rey proved that there was more stuff in him than apparent upon the surface. He was brevetted as a First Lieutenant there for gallantry He left some time afterwards for home, but not before he had been made a Captain. We, as Pennsylvanians, have something to say of him His father was from old Westmoreland county, the place of my own nativity, I have often stood on the ground where he was born I know Grant well It was my good fortune to serve under him in the war just closed I first served at Wauhatchie I first saw then the power of his mind as a military man [Applause] He first directed the assault upon Lookout Mountain He turned the cannon upon Missionary Ridge, and on the Chattanooga and obtained the victories at Taylor's Ridge, near Ringgold. I want to show you what I know of the man that he may be acceptable to you I know him well, I have dined with him, and never saw anything strong upon the table I never knew him to touch spirits of any kind. I believe there is no man who has been more ungenerously treated on that subject during the last few months than Grant On a certain occasion, after the cloth had been removed, he called for his maps, which he spread before me, and said "Sir, you and your division have been instrumental in obtaining the victories around this city The plan for the next campaign is already formed, and it is proper that you should know it I intend to concentrate my troops around this place and pour them on Atlanta, while a strong attack is made on Richmond After Atlanta falls, a line will be taken for the sea shore, ending either at Charleston or Savannah and having thus made our point, we will enter the Carolinas and attack Richmond This was in 1863 nine months before the city of Atlanta was taken Justice should be done, and I tell you so that you will know who it was that planned the march to the sea, and bisected the Confederacy and brought the rebellion to a termination "

WASHINGTON, May 29 1868

It is not true that I have now or ever had, any hostility to Mr Wade I never had the slightest misunderstanding with him in my life

It is not true that I ever sought to be, or ever desired to be a candidate for Vice President, or President pro tem of the Senate

It is not true that Judge Chase sought to influence my judgment in the impeachment trial I never had a word of conversation with the Chief Justice on the subject nor on the subject of a new party , nor did he ever mention the subject of the Presidency to me I have not been in the house of Chief Justice Chase for more than two years

It is not true that I have ever been dissatisfied with the reconstruction plan of Congress So far from it I was one of the seven Senators who were members of the Joint Committee on Reconstruction and signed the report I was Chairman of the sub-committee on the State of Tennessee, and it was upon my recommendation that that State was so early restored to the Union

It is not true that I am now or ever was either directly or indirectly, interested in the Chicago Tribune newspaper I do not know nor ever have known how the Tribune corps is organized what is its capital who are its stockholders or the value of its stock Nor have I ever sought to influence the course of that paper on any measure public or private I am sorry to be compelled to add that the story so circumstantially related and published that the wife of the editor of that paper is my daughter, is not true.

It is not true that I ever had the slightest sympathy with the general policy of Mr Johnson's administration I have had no personal intercourse with Mr Johnson for two years, never asked him for a favor and never received one from him

It is true that when I took an oath that "in all things appertaining to the trial of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson I would render impartial justice according to the Constitution and the laws I ceased to act in a representative capacity [illegible] [illegible] own responsibility and accountable only to my own conscience and my Maker and no power could force me to decide in such a case contrary to my convictions [illegible] the requirements of a party [illegible] that party were composed of my friends or [illegible] enemies

NATIONAL UNION NOMINATIONS

For President

WILSON BOWLBY of Washington

The Financial Situation

In a recent very able speech in Congress Mr Garfield of Ohio enunciated and proved by elaborate argument the following propositions

1 That the remarkable prosperity of industrial enterprise during the war was not caused by the abundance of currency but by the unparalleled demand for every product of labor

2 That the great depression of business the stagnation of trade the "hard times" which have prevailed during the past year and which still prevail have not been caused by an insufficient amount of currency but mainly by the great falling off of the demand for all the products of labor compared with the increased supply since the return of peace

Every great financial crisis of the last thirty years has been preceded by a great increase and followed by a great and sudden decrease in the volume of paper money We quote from Mr Garfield's remarks

On the 1st of January, 1837 the amount had arisen to $149 000 000 and increase of nearly fifty per cent in three years Before the end of that year, the reckless expansion speculation and overtrading which caused the increase had resulted in a terrible collapse and on the 1st of January 1838 the volume was reduced to $116 000 000. After the crash of 1837 wild lands which speculation had raised to fifteen and twenty dollars per acre fell to one dollar and a half and two dollars accompanied by a corresponding depression in all branches of business Immediately after the crisis of 1841 the bank circulation decreased twenty five per cent and by the end of 1842 was reduced to $58 000 000 a decrease of nearly fifty per cent

So it was in 1853 and 1857 Reminiscences of 1819 and 1820 confirm this view

The evils of any further expansion of the currency are drawn in a most vivid and convincing manner in this speech If more currency were issued it would flow to the money centres, and increased prices would make our condition worse than before The capitalist and speculator are able to take advantage of the fluctuations in prices, but the mass of the people have no such power They must buy the necessaries of life day by day whatever the price, and they have nothing to sell but their labor, which it is notorious is always underpaid when the currency is depreciated

The Congress which authorized the first issue of legal tenders did it under the pressure of overwhelming necessity They regarded it as a part of the war machinery, to be reduced after the close of the struggle the same as the army and navy and other accompaniments of the war About one-sixth of the whole paper currency of the Government has been withdrawn, in pursuance of this policy

Those who look for a remedy for the present "hard times" in the issue of more paper are likened to the member of the Continental Congress, who exclaimed

Do you think, gentleman, that I will consent to load my constituents with taxes when we can send to the printer and get a wagon load of money, one quire of which will pay the whole!

We append another paragraph or two from Mr Garfield's remarks

Does any reflecting man suppose it possible for the country to return from high prices the enormous expansion of business, debt and speculation occasioned by the war, without much depression and temporary distress? The wit of man has never devised a method by which the vast commercial and industrial interests of a nation can suffer the change from peace to war, and from war back to peace, without hardship and loss The homely old maxim, "What goes up must come down," applies to our situation with peculiar force The "coming down" is inevitable Congress can only break the fall and mitigate the evils by adjusting the taxation, the expenditures and the currency of the country, to the changed conditions of affairs This it is our duty to do with a firm and steady hand.

To review briefly: the hard times and depression of business now suffered were caused by the great industrial revolution which grew out of the war. Its evils have been aggravated and are in danger of being indefinitely continued by our unsettled currency and by the uncertainty of legislation; we have no fixed standard of value, and all trade and business are at the mercy of political sensations and business intrigues, the evils of which fall heaviest upon the laboring man The greatest financial danger which threatens us is that some of the schemes now before us may result in a large increase of irredeemable paper money.

What it Signifies

A correspondent of the Herald at Salem glorifies the Democratic triumph in Oregon in this sounding strain

The result of the election was a glorious triumph of right over wrong, of constitutional freedom over corrupt partisan tyranny, a stunning rebuke to our delegation in Congress, who while engaged in impeaching the President for mere party purposes, have themselves been impeached at home by a constituency who appreciated the trio at their real value It was the spontaneous condemnation by a free people of that band of bankrupt and irresponsible political knaves who have for the last few years administered the offices of the State

Now let this matter be stated the other way, so that it may be seen how the truth looks in comparison with this Democratic buncombe The result of the election was a triumph of Missouri and Arkansas guerrillas over the Union people of Oregon, an assertion of rebel doctrines in a State which has heretofore maintained a record for loyalty, a declaration in favor of the constitutional freedom of rebellion over the "tyranny which holds rebellion in abhorrence" a rebuke to our delegation in Congress by a constituency which never rebuked and many of whom fought for the Southern Confederacy It was the condemnation by a free people some thousands of whom obtained their freedom by being expelled from other States as traitors, of those who have given Oregon so glorious a name for fidelity to the national cause since secession Governor Whiteaker and his associations were driven from office six years ago It is the triumph of a party two-thirds or whose members would be better pleased to vote for General Lee for President than for General Hancock or any other man who helped to save the country That is the interpretation of the Oregon election That is what the Democratic triumph signifies

There are a good many persons known as "half breeds" in this State and we have heard of no instance of their voting anything but the Democratic ticket at the late election Six or eight of them voted at St Helens, and every aboriginal mother's son of them voted the so-called "white man's ticket" In some places the yellow Democrats made a good deal of noise about the polls clamoring for a "white man's government" and expressing their horror of miscegenation! These "unkindly mixed" individuals all claim to belong to the superior race and are all terribly afraid of nigger equality

The Copperheads say that though the war for the Union was successful the rewards of peace have not been reaped It would be interesting to hear them tell what reward they deem rebels entitled to for laying down their arms when they could fight no longer

Sable Democracy

As the facts relating to the Southern elections come out the truth is becoming apparent that a great many blacks went with the Democrats and a great many whites went with Republicans, or the Reconstruction party The Democrats are boasting of the number of blacks who voted their ticket and these colored sovereigns are made the subjects of unbounded eulogy by the so-called "Conservative" press We have frequently published extracts from Southern papers setting these things forth The Albany (Ga) News, a Democratic sheet from which we have before quoted, published the following reflections upon the first election in that State in which colored men voted

Early in the canvass we appealed to the white people of Middle and Upper Georgia to save Southern and Southwestern Georgia from the horrible fate that threatened Heavy majorities for Radicalism were naturally expected from the "black belt" and for the same reasons that infused this conviction the white settlements were expected to go Democratic We are astonished at the reversal of this order of things At one time we entertained a purpose to change our base in the event of Radical success, and seek repose among the white people in a different portion of the State but the developments of the election have fastened upon our mind the conviction that the negro is a better man than the white scalawag and that we should suffer by the change

The white scalawags are the 11 000 white men of Georgia who voted for the Constitution and the Republican ticket and the negroes who are so highly lauded are those who voted Democratic It would seem therefore that the true qualification of a voter is that he shall vote the Democratic ticket, and that color is a matter of no concern

But it is really a favorable sign to see both the white and colored vote dividing This division will cause prejudices to disappear It will stop all complaints about the domination of either race Under this order of things there will be far more security than if the two classes were solidly arrayed against each other The "war of races" about which there has been so much flippant and foolish talk is indefinitely postponed With a large part of the negroes voting the Democratic ticket, that party will never consent to their disfranchisement The Georgia Democrats are already so impressed with these considerations that they "see no reason longer to oppose negro suffrage" The South Carolina Democratic Convention it will be remembered declared in favor of impartial suffrage for whites and blacks In view of the position taken by Southern Democrats and their laudations of the colored people how utterly ludicrous do the howlings of that party in the North about nigger equality appear!

The Western Mounds.

There has always been much curiosity and speculation in regard to the formation of the mounds which are found in such numbers in the valley of the upper Mississippi. A writer in the Chicago Tribune says of them:

The reason why these hills, formed by the natural and gradual erosion of the surrounding material, are often mistaken for artificial mounds, is the fact, that relic hunters sometimes find flint arrow heads, stone axes, etc., upon them or even discover by digging into their summits, the graves, stone implements and skeletons of an ancient people This, however, by no means proves these hills to be artificial structures, but only show that these ancient races were sometimes content to appropriate a ready made natural hill, as a burying place instead of erecting one for themselves Nearly every elevated point of the river bluff, from Cairo to Dubuque, as well as those of the other large rivers of the West, were used by the same people for the same purpose, and we have precisely the same grounds to suppose that all these have been the work of human hands, as we have to assume that all hills in the river valleys are of artificial origin, although some of them of course may be, as we have no doubt such mounds exist

Many persons long believed that that the isolated hills in Northern Illinois and Wisconsin called "mounds," were artificial, some of which were from three to six hundred feet in height, and some fanciful writers maintained that they are "interesting antiquities," until it was shown by geologists that they are composed of solid silurian strata, with but a thin covering of loose earth In one sense, they are certainly "interesting antiquities," so old indeed, that whole period of man's career on this earth sinks into insignificance, when compared with their entire age

A Canard Exposed.

WASHINGTON, May 29

The story telegraphed to several newspapers last night that there was a row in the Senate caucus yesterday morning, and that Wade, Chandler, Cattell and others withdrew, because several of the Republicans who voted against impeachment were present, appears to have no foundation whatever Mr Cattell was not at the caucus at all, not reaching the Capitol till a few minutes before the Senate met, and after the caucus had adjourned to Monday. Mr Wade denies having left the caucus, except because of duties in the Vice President's room Mr Chandler was present, but said nothing against the presence of Messrs Trumbull Henderson and others The object of the caucus did not seem to have been understood, and a quorum did not appear Those earliest on the ground waited some time and talked about filling the vacant Secretaryship of the Senate in an informal manner, and finally Mr Chandler moved an adjournment, saying he supposed the Senators did not know what the caucus was for, and that it was desirable there should be a full attendance when the vote was taken He remained till the question had been put and carried, and then with all the other Senators, retired from the caucus chamber It cannot, in fact, be learned to-day by careful inquiry that any objection was raised to the presence of Trumbull and his associates, all of whom were invited in the usual manner, and most if not all will attend on Monday, to aid in selecting the new Secretary from the numerous candidates who want the place

More Indian News

The Boise Statesman of the 13th has the following

We learn through private sources that the party which left Amelia City, Shasta mines to look after the Indians that killed Belknap, were attacked in a canyon by about twenty Indians, and one of the party named Alex Sullivan was instantly killed The party then returned to Amelia A German who was unaccustomed to riding, concluded to walk, and slipping in the brush discovered and shot an Indian in the act of climbing a small tree to reconnoiter The German arrived in camp two days later and reported that he had killed two of the red devils Our old townsman G W Quivey was in the party It is said that he and the German were anxious to stay with the Indians but the remainder weakened and as the Lo band were too strong for two, the Indians had the field The same party of men found the body of young Belknap horribly mutilated and partially burned It was scalped, the hands and feet cut off, and the body stuck full of pointed sticks with pieces of fat bacon fastened on the ends.

We said a couple of days ago that after the Southern States are restored to their relations with the Union, they would have the right and the power to regulate, each for itself the exercise of the elective franchise Beriah sees, or pretends to see in this, an abandonment by the Republican party of negro suffrage in the South and calls such supposed action "the blackest act of perfidy that a party was ever guilty of" This is an average specimen of Beriah's editorial efforts It is no wonder that there should be talk of dismissing him from the Herald and getting some one to write for the paper who is blessed with a little common sense

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 30, 1868

The Republican candidates for President and Vice President—Grant and Colfax—and the failure of impeachment, are about the only subjects talked of in New York now Go into the hotels, on the streets, into the cars, or where you may and these are the leading topics of conversation The vote last Tuesday on the first and second articles of impeachment, resulting in acquittal, disappointed no one, for it was generally supposed that each Senator who voted "not guilty" on the eleventh article would vote the same way on each and every article In the language of Nasby, "the contract to vote against the eleventh article, covered all the other articles It is boldly charged in the papers, and whether true or not is generally believed, that the verdict of acquittal was secured by corrupt means The testimony of Thurlow Weed before the managers, and the telegrams which passed between him and S S Cox, nominated Minister to Austria Mr Warden, one of the President's Private Secretaries, Sheridan Shook Collector of Internal Revenue of the 1est district in the United States Mr Webster Deputy Surveyor in the Custom House in this city, Mr Wooley Attorney for the "Whisky Ring" and their "friends" of the President establish the fact beyond doubt, that $[illegible] 000 was paid by these worthies to some person or persons during the trial of the President, and that they knew he would be acquitted and telegraphed it to their associates throughout the country, when leading Senators at Washington considered conviction certain Weed swears that, during a conversation between himself, Collector Smythe of New York, Gen Adams and others "Adams proposed for a certain sum of money, to get the votes of certain Senators against conviction" And that the next persons who talked to him about it were Webster Wooley and Shook, who came to his rooms at the Astor House" At this meeting he says "there was a proposition made for votes and for money — thirty thousand dollars for three votes." He further testifies that "the subject was first talked about in New York" Wooley, who has made a fortune as Attorney for the Whisky Ring, after the conversations above referred to, telegraphed to Washington May 4 enquiring the "situation" to which Warden, the President's Private Secretary replied "The only persons who expect conviction are those who know [illegible]" Wooley then went to Washington, and, on May 6, telegraphed Sheridan Shook to place $10,000 to his credit with "Gillis Haney & Co, New York, which was placed to his credit, and was drawn by him at a branch house of the firm in Washington On the same night, Webster one of Wooley's associates, telegraphed to Sheridan Shook, "All right, your answer has been received" The same day Webster telegraphed from Washington to Thurlow Weed, "He will do it Telegraph Hugh Hastings to come here right away" On the 7th of May Wooley telegraphed to Thurlow Weed in this city "When will the Albany party be on hand (at Washington) for business?" On the 11th Wooley telegraphed to an associate in Cincinnati "President's stock above par and to another in New York "Impeachment gone higher than a kite." On the 12th, Wooley, who had already received $10 000 telegraphed to Sheridan Shook "The fire should be paid—may be absolutely necessary, and the same day $5 000 was placed to his credit, with Gillis & Co and drawn by him in Washington On the same day he received $5 000 for impeachment purposes from P Clinch, of Cincinnati, who telegraphed "I paid your draft How is Andy? On the 13th, Wooley telegraphed to Shook "Come on by the first train very important" Another dispatch said "You must come on here and disentangle a snarl between friends at once" And S S Cox telegraphed to Thurlow Weed "If you can't come over, send Sheridan Shook Important" Sheridan Shook arrived in Washington on the 15th of May, the day before the vote on the eleventh article It would seem that he succeeded in disentangling the "snarl" for at 9 O A M on the 16th, four hours before the Senators who didn't understand "the inner workings," knew how the vote would stand Wooley telegraphed to Hugh Hastings, in this city "We have beat the M E Church North, hell, George Wilkes and impeachment" When brought before the managers, Wooley attempted to account for the $20,000 by four falsehoods, viz that he had paid it out in his private business second, had paid it out on his client's business, third, had sent it in a check to Cincinnati, and fourth, had given it to Shook to keep, which Shook denies And finally he refuses to state what he did with it, and the managers are holding him in custody

Senator Ross replied to a dispatch from some of his friends, in Kansas, that he did not recognize their right to demand that he should vote for or against conviction Having taken an oath to do impartial justice, he trusted that he had the courage and honesty to vote according to the dictates of his judgment, etc They answered "Your telegram is received Your vote is dictated by Tom Ewing, not by your oath Your motives are Indian contracts and greenbacks Kansas repudiates you as she does all perjurers and skunks"

I was present Wednesday evening at a great ratification meeting held at the Cooper Institute Speeches were made by Chas S Spencer, Chauncey M Depew, Horace Greeley, Gen Cochrane and others The vast hall, one of the largest in the United States was literally packed with an enthusiastic multitude The walls and ceilings were nearly covered with flags of all sizes, and flags ornamented every one of the numerous pillars which support the ceiling of the immense room Around the walls were hung banners bearing the name and coat of arms of every State High above the platform hung a scroll bearing the memorable words of our standard bearer "I demand an unconditional surrender," and beneath it, the names, Richmond Corinth" Under this legend was a splendid likeness of Grant, and over the Speaker's desk an arch of gas jets forming the names of our nominees Grant and Colfax" On the right of the platform, above the names of Ft Donelson Pittsburg Landing Shiloh was the phrase, "We propose to move on the enemy's works" On the left was the expression "I'll fight it out on this line if it takes all summer" The audience numbered several thousand and the enthusiasm was unbounded The nomination of Grant and Colfax and the platform adopted by the Convention give universal satisfaction Everywhere—on the cars in the depots and hotels—from Chicago to New York, I heard but one universal expression of approval of the nominees and the platform Colfax is conceded by all hands as being the strongest candidate that could have been placed upon the ticket along with Grant Even the Democrats admit this Some of them say that Grant and Colfax are the only men the Republicans could have nominated with the assurance of being able to elect thus virtually conceding that their success is sure.

The growth of New York city and its suburbs is truly wonderful Throughout its thirty miles of suburbs, acres and miles of astounding blocks of residences attest the onward strides of the great metropolis During the past year about ten thousand new buildings were erected in New York and Brooklyn According to the late calculation the entire metropolis, including New York Brooklyn, Jersey City and Hoboken containing a population of at least one and a half million, and some claim two million eight hundred thousand It is now much the largest city in America, and, no doubt will be before the close of the present century, the greatest city in the world As compared with New York, Washington and suburbs, has a population of about 120 000, and contains a little over 20 000 houses Boston proper contains some over 20 000 houses and Boston including Roxbury, Charleston and Cambridge, boasts a population of about 300,000 Philadelphia contains over 100,000 houses, and a population of perhaps, 800,000 only

Minister Burlingame and his "almond eyed embassy, are attracting some attention here at present Day before yesterday they were invited to be present at a review of the Seventh Regiment New York Militia in the park in front of the City Hall The regiment was reviewed by Mayor Hoffman Minister Burlingame, the Mandarins Chih Tajen, Sun Tajen, and other Chinese dignitaries Yesterday they visited Blackwell's Island and last night they dined at the Union League Club House with Greeley, Raymond, and other leading newspaper men K

New York [illegible]

A [illegible] the 25th relates the following [illegible] made of a [illegible] Last week we [illegible] wager between [illegible] a Republican, and [illegible] Carter, a Democrat, on the result of the [illegible] Should [illegible] elected. But [illegible] of the event, and [illegible] hoped the event would [illegible] for that [illegible] came [illegible] that [illegible] was elected. Last [illegible] ning, therefore, was the time fixed for [illegible] Carter, who, of course, won the wager [illegible] posters printed [illegible] "Oregon Redeemed." Some one changed [illegible] read "Oregon [illegible] crable [illegible] At the appointed time [illegible] assembled at [illegible] streets, and Hon. [illegible] was elected Chairman [illegible] with a few [illegible] who was loudly [illegible] followed by full [illegible] speech, in the [illegible] which he stated that [illegible] present [illegible] of improvement among his Democratic friends—the [illegible] church in Oregon and [illegible] National Congress. At the [illegible] was loudly applauded. [illegible] Carter [illegible] menced [illegible] an eloquent speech, as usual, but [illegible] introduced [illegible] wanted the shooting to stop. Carter ordered [illegible] can go by default [illegible] rather liked the fun. Judge Watson spoke [illegible] Hon. Sam. [illegible] but on account of the noise and confusion [illegible] to retire, when [illegible] the stand and [illegible] Democrats [illegible] upon Mr. [illegible] for a speech [illegible] Tom kept on with the [illegible] powder was used up, which ended the [illegible] Everybody then took a drink and shook hands [illegible] and all.

Circuit Court—[illegible].—The following proceedings were had in the Circuit Court yesterday:

State vs. Frank Bates; verdict of jury, defendant not guilty; defendant discharged and surety exonerated.

Richard Brotherton vs. the Oregon Iron Works; verdict of jury for plaintiff in the sum of [illegible] Shattuck for plaintiff, and Gibbs & Parrish for defendant.

The Grand Jury presented an indictment against [illegible] Slate, accused of assault with a dangerous weapon.

State of Oregon vs. John McCarron, [illegible] Verdict of jury, guilty as charged, and [illegible] fendant recommended to the mercy of the court. Mulkey & Hill for the State. [illegible] for defendant.

State vs. Ah Joy; case submitted to jury, verdict guilty, as charged in indictment. Mulkey & Hill for State. [illegible] for defendant.

W. G. Ballard, foreman of the Grand Jury, on account of illness was excused from further service as such juror, and L. L. Williams was drawn and sworn to fill the vacancy. [illegible] was appointed foreman.

Honoring [illegible].—We learn that the ancient and honorable society which bears the above name will celebrate the coming 4th, with such pomp and circumstance as will throw all [illegible] in the shade. A meeting is to be held at the Council Chamber next Saturday evening, at which all the preliminary arrangements will be made, programme determined, and heads of departments appointed. It is especially desired that all members and others wishing to participate in the celebration with [illegible] at the Council Chamber at half past seven o'clock Saturday evening.

Match Game of Base Ball.—We learn that the Clackamas club have challenged the Washingtons of Vancouver, to play them a match, and that the latter club has accepted the challenge. The first game will therefore be played at Oregon City next Saturday. This game will be likely to stir up a little excitement among the clubs, as it is known to be the intention of the Clackamas boys to contest the championship this season. Our Portland clubs have been very negligent thus far, in consequence of other engrossing excitements. They must look to their laurels if they would not lose them.

Meeting of the Committee of Arrangements.—The Committee of Arrangements for the celebration of the [illegible], will have a meeting at the Council Chamber at [illegible] o'clock this evening. A meeting had been called at [illegible] o'clock yesterday afternoon, but only two members of the Committee attended. If we are to have a celebration which will be creditable to the city, all necessary [illegible] must be made soon. The Committee ought not to [illegible] another failure to happen. Come out to [illegible] and show that you intend to do something.

[illegible].—Within the present month the following [illegible] have been adjudged bankrupts, and warrants against their estates have been issued: John B. Wallace [illegible]; Geo. E. Briggs of Kerbyville, Josephine [illegible]; Melville Bowers of Benton county; Lesser Cohn [illegible]; Alexander Sterael of Benton county; James McMurray of Portland; Jacob Holgate of Corvallis, Oregon; Wesley C. Hull of Orodell, Union county, Oregon—all on their own petitions.

Not an Opposition Boat.—A friend of Capt. Paugh [illegible] informs us that the Captain says he is not building [illegible] boat for opposition, as is, by many, supposed, but intends to run her at the same prices for freight that the P. [illegible] Co. charge. He thinks their prices now are as low as can be afforded. If prices get too low to suit him he will tie up and wait for a rise.

[illegible] Ham.—The proprietor of the Union Market, on [illegible] gton street, exhibited in front of his shop, yesterday, [illegible] smoked ham which weighs upwards of sixty pounds. It is about as closely trimmed as the average of hams, and is not remarkably fat, but is uncommonly large. Hams of sixty pounds weight are not often met with in this country.

[illegible].—The soiree given by the First Class Club of Prof. Cardinell's Dancing Academy, on Wednesday evening, was one of the most pleasant parties of the season. [illegible] reception. The number of ladies and gentlemen [illegible] were very nearly equal and the aggregate was [illegible] for the hall. The dancing was continued till after one o'clock.

Sale of Printing Material.—The material of the [illegible] Pioneer newspaper office was sold at auction yesterday by Mr. A. B. Richardson. Mr. O. A. Lunden [illegible], one of the former proprietors, was the principal buyer, and it is said that he will soon establish another paper, or perhaps revive the Pioneer.

The Weather.—The Winter has at last thawed out, and [illegible] has leaped at once into full glory. The [illegible] yesterday, in a northern exposure, stood [illegible] hours, at 84° to 86°, Fahrenheit. We call [illegible] contrast with the prevailing cool weather of the [illegible] entire season, decidedly thawing.

That Premium Bat.—At a business meeting of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, held last evening, the Secretary was instructed to correspond with the proper officer of the State Agricultural Society concerning the premium bat awarded the club last year. The club wants to know when the bat is to be handed over.

Freight for Victoria.—We learn from the shippers, [illegible] Everding & Beebe, Sayler & Co., and McCraken, [illegible] & Co., that the steamship Active took the following produce Wednesday evening for Victoria: 225 bbls [illegible] sacks middlings, 111 bags wheat, 35 sacks oats, [illegible] bran.

A Boat for Sale.—The clipper built sloop Flying Cloud will be sold at auction on Saturday, by Mr. A. B. Richardson. She is a boat of about five tons burthen, furnished with sails, rigging, anchors, etc., and may be seen at the foot of Oak street. A fine chance to buy a [illegible].

[illegible] Picnic.—The teachers and students of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary, will start at [illegible] ten o'clock to-day, for the East Portland Park, where they will have a basket picnic. We understand that the parents and friends of the students are invited to attend.

Oregon Products.—The following were the receipts yesterday: Per steamer [illegible], [illegible] cases and 13 gunnies bacon, 18 hf bbls dried apples, 21 boxes eggs, [illegible] sacks feed, 40 tons pig iron, [illegible] 1 wagon, and 1 pkg hides. Per steamer [illegible], 216 bags wheat.

Going up the Columbia.—The McGinley Troupe will leave this morning for a brief trip up the Columbia. They will play at the Dalles this evening and then visit the towns beyond. It is their intention to return here again in the course of two or three weeks.

From Tillamook.—The schooner J. C. Champion, [illegible] Master, arrived from Tillamook, under sail, at [illegible] A. M. yesterday. She brought around a cargo of [illegible] wool, hides, butter, etc., most of which she [illegible] at Astoria.

[illegible] Guards Picnic.—The Fenian Guard have decided upon having the picnic on Sunday next. There will [illegible] target shooting, [illegible] the rest of the programme will be carried out as before advertised.

[illegible].—We notice by the Idaho papers that Dr. C. [illegible], the accomplished dentist of this city, is fixing up the teeth of the people of Silver City. He knows exactly how to do it.

Complaints [illegible].—Persons residing in the neighborhood are [illegible] complaint about [illegible] parties who are making [illegible] North Park [illegible] this purpose.

[illegible] to Answer.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday, [illegible] Houtz had a preliminary examination on a [illegible] of larceny, and was held to answer before the [illegible] Jury.

[illegible] Committees of Arrangements and Finance for the [illegible] of July Celebration are requested to meet at the [illegible] Room this (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock sharp.

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Pope

AN INTERVIEW WITH HIS [illegible] ALLEGIANCE OF THE HOLY FATHER INTERESTING [illegible]

A correspondent of the Evenement [illegible] who was admitted a few days since to an audience of the Pope, gives in a letter from Rome to that journal some interesting details about the Holy Father. He says:

The Pope is pretty tall and stout, with a long face. The furniture of his room consists of a plain table with two chairs and a cane chair for himself. The rooms are all with [illegible] ceilings, and the walls covered with paper of the [illegible]. His [illegible] grand official saloons are covered with silk. His bedroom has a [illegible] a carpet and a brick floor, with a little bed made of iron with no curtains. He is very neat in his person. His hands, which are white, are covered with white mittens, and particularly attended to. He rises at [illegible] says himself and says his mass in a little private chapel, and then hears another. At [illegible] he takes a small cup of chocolate, and at 8.30 he receives his ministers. Cardinal Antonelli comes every day to the Vatican, and when prevented from doing so the Under Secretary of State, Monsignor Marini, takes his place. The other days of the week the other functionaries in their turn transact business with him. At 10.30 the Ministers withdraw. The audiences then begin and last [illegible] till 1. At 2 o'clock the Pope dines in his private apartment. His repast is of the most modest kind, and is always ended with a dish of which all Italians are fond [illegible] he takes his siesta at [illegible] recites his breviary, and at 5.30 goes out for a drive in a carriage with four horses, accompanied only by two young priests. If the weather permits he alights and walks in the most retired parts of the city, nevertheless he is followed by upwards of two thousand persons, who walk after him in silence. When it rains His Holiness proceeds to the galleries of the Vatican when the visitors have retired. He is a great lover of antiques, as proved by the researches and restorations he is continually making. On his return home at [illegible] the audiences recommence and last till 10 at night, when he retires to sup. He goes to bed at 11, and the next day goes through the same routine.

Though advanced in years, he sings very well, and, what is quite unknown even to many Romans, plays well on the violoncello. When I was received with my companion the chamberlain plucked me by the sleeve to make me kneel. The Pope perceiving the movement, spared us the genuflexion and made us approach the table at which he was sitting. 'So, then,' his Holiness said, 'you are the two journalists, friends, going [illegible] or to Naples?' He spoke about Naples and asked us how we liked Rome, adding that people found themselves very [illegible] during their stay. He then took two photographic likenesses of himself, one for each of us, and with a sly smile said, I am going to write something for the journalists, and in a firm hand traced these words:

Diligite veritatem, filius. Pio.

after which he held out his hand to us. His affability is extreme. He speaks French with as much accent as Rossini, and the impression he produced on me was that of a pleasant and tranquil old man, who appears to be but little occupied with external matters.

The Late Harriet Livermore.

[From the Bridgeport (Conn.) Standard, May 3.]

Those of our readers who are familiar with Whittier's poems, and especially with his beautiful idyl "Snow Bound," will recollect the graphic portraiture interwoven in his description of the fireside circles of a New England home, and commencing with the lines:

Another guest that winter night
Flashed back from lustrous eyes, the light—

Many have been the conjectures whether the sketch had an original in real life, or was the simple creation of the author's genius. The writer of this was informed by Mr. Whittier that the likeness was drawn from nature, the subject being a lady, the recent announcement of whose decease has suggested this reminiscence. This lady was Miss Harriet Livermore, of an aristocratic and wealthy family of Philadelphia. She died in that city a few days since, at the advanced age of 81 years. It is said that an enforced separation from the object of an early attachment, through the authority of her parents, gave an eccentric development to an intellect otherwise brilliant and well balanced, the result of which was a career remarkable for its romantic adventures. She became more particularly an enthusiast in religious matters, and became a firm believer in the early restoration of the Jews and the second coming of the Savior. Some thirty or forty years ago, we believe, she promulgated her views on those subjects in public lectures through out the country, addressing audiences of the first respectability and culture, in the principal cities of the Union. So intense was her devotion to these ideas and so implicit her faith, that the time had arrived for their realization, and she visited Jerusalem on three different occasions, in order to be present and witness their consummation. The last of these journeys was made when she had attained the age of seventy years, and was prosecuted under great privations and hardships. In a variety of ways she sought to facilitate the accomplishment of the promised return of the Jews to Jerusalem, by advocating their cause not only with her pen and by public lectures, but through personal intercession with the authorities of different countries. She wrote, we believe, several works upon the second coming of the Savior, "Millenial Triumphs" being the one that we are now able to recall. She was also a contributor to the periodical literature of her day, and at one time [illegible] for the Southern Literary Messenger under the name of the "Lonely Pilgrim." These are a few incidents in the life of this gifted though eccentric woman, as nearly as the recollection of our reading enables us to recall them, and are, in the main, we believe, correct.

This is the original of the episode in "Snow Bound," spoken of above, and what more fitting epitaph for the "Lonely Pilgrim" than the lines in which Whittier has embalmed the memory of a truthful yet erratic devotion:

It is not ours to separate
The tangled skein of will and fate
To show what metes and bounds should stand
Upon the soul's debatable land

FEMALE REPORTERS.—The anniversary meeting at New York last week brought up some extraordinary things, and among the most remarkable were three female reporters. The Woman's Rights Convention was attended by these ladies, the reportorial representatives of Woman's Rights newspapers for different parts of the country. Two of the three were strong-minded bloomers, and the other had discarded hoops and "such," and appeared in a meek, retiring dress. The Sun reporter gives the following spicy description of the forms at work:

"Miss Ada Fessenden [illegible] of Chicago, was garbed in tight fitting black silk pantaloons, silk double breasted vest and grey [illegible] which reached a little lower than her hips. When she got warm at her work she opened her paletot, crossed her legs, placing her right foot on the left knee, and upon the elevated limb was placed her paper, and plied her calling with the utmost nonchalance. The other was dressed in orange colored silk, silk Knickerbocker pants, loose vest and flowing tunic tightened around the waist. The Knickerbocker pants are finished by elastics, the remainder of the leg (a very brawny one) was encased in thin flesh colored skin tight stockings. The third reporter belongs to the Revolution, dresses in black, without hoops, immense Panama hat, dishevelled hair [illegible] [illegible] pummelagaiters. She is said to be a [illegible] of a local."

A petition in favor of woman's suffrage, containing nearly 22,000 signatures, has been presented to the British Parliament. Among the notable persons who appear among the signers are Mrs. Somerville and Florence Nightingale, who head the list; Lord and Lady Amberley, Professor Blair, Sir E. Anstruther, Bart., M. P., Sir John Bowring, Madame Bodichon, the Archdeacon of Coventry, Dr. Farr, Mr. Commissioner Hill, William and Mary Howitt, Professor Huxley, the Rev. Charles Kingsley, the Hon. Auberon Herbert, Miss Martineau, Professor Leslie, the Hon. Mrs. Thomas Liddell, Professor Masson, Mr. John Morley, Professor Newman, [illegible] Playfair, Professor Roberts, [illegible] and many others.

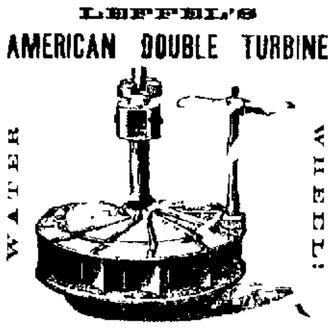
LEFFEL'S
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested in this coast, many being in use at this time, driving all kinds of machinery. Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement or copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel, and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing bluff, I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. [illegible] [illegible] Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement of our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement with our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eye no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

F. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE,

- CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

I am aware that by dwelling upon so [illegible] a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] my motive, but the desire to point out to those who suffer, languish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] is a great incentive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of [illegible] [illegible] the practical specialist who [illegible] [illegible] treatment can tell, but its presence can be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms: Weakness of the back and [illegible] [illegible] of muscular power, nervous [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by [illegible] [illegible] consumption, short breath, flushings of the [illegible] [illegible] to society, confusion of the mind, loss of [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless; slight [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] excitement, trembling palpitation of the [illegible] regular appetite, variable temper, etc.

It is the nature of the complaint to changes that leave the poor victim but little hope [illegible] very. In a single instant it may wither [illegible] [illegible] and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of [illegible] This is an error of the first magnitude, for [illegible] unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] only fails, and he finds himself in [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] if the marriage should result in [illegible] [illegible] distorted, decrepid and diseased. This is [illegible] both sexes, whether married or [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the [illegible] [illegible] complaint, or if your acts have been [illegible] [illegible] them, but by instant application [illegible] only hope of health and happiness. Without Mercury or other Poisonous Drugs, shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] entering the blood ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.
